GOD HEARD ME PRAY

Years ago, one snowy winter night, Death came into my home, Leaving me with six small children, The future all unknown.

Long years I toiled daily With weak, feeble hands To feed my helpless children In a lonely, friendless, land.

People told me I could not keep them, Told me to give them away, But praise God forever, He heard me when I prayed.

There were many widows in Israel, God sent Elijah to only one, She was preparing to bake her last meal,

I worked to feed my band, And, through the darkest hours, I kept holding to God's hand.

Many times, along life's way, But, Elijah's God is my God, And He heard me, when I prayed

My children are scattered now, And many miles from me, May God who heard and answered prayers,

To the widow long ago, Is the same all-wise God, He does all things right, I know

My prayers will soon be ended, Soon, my heartache will be o'er, I will find rest and peace at last,

-Rebecca Jones
